

FIS Donates $10K to Charity On Behalf of a TPA

Filed on Thursday, April 12, 2018

Spectrum Pension Consultants received a 2018 FIS impact award earlier this week. Spectrum is an affiliate of Alliance Benefit Group (ABG).

Along with the award, FIS also donated $10,000 to a charity of the Tacoma, Washington-based TPA's choice. Spectrum's CEO, Petros Koumantaros, and CFO, Yannis Koumantaros, decided to split the award and donate to both the American Cancer Society and Pano Koumantaros Research Fund, which was founded in honor of their father and the firm's founder 13 years ago.

The FIS award, is given out to organizations that use FIS technology or services in innovative ways for the betterment of their customers and results in tangible business improvements.

"If you had asked me back in 2005, whether we would even be here today, it was questionable. Tragically at that time our father, our firm's founder fell ill to bladder cancer and passed on in six months so it was a very difficult experience for our firm," Petros Koumantaros said after winning the award.

"But we have an incredible leadership team, a very strong network of clients, incredible staff members, and of course tremendous partnerships, with FIS particularly, in the wealth and retirement services space. So we are thrilled to support the American Cancer Society and Pano Koumantaros research fund," Petros Koumantaros said.

Nine other FIS clients won awards as well.
